

Anatomy

Anatomy of the Brain – £1.99 – The brain is one of the most complex and least understood parts of the body, so start your brain education off right with this tool.

Anatomy Pronunciations Lite – Free – Avoid sounding like a newbie by learning how to correctly pronounce all those medical terms with this tool.

Blausen Human Atlas – £13.99 – The Blausen Human Atlas 2.0 combines 3D medical animations with a cross searchable medical term glossary and detailed still images. For doctors, nurses, students and consumer caregivers, this is the ideal resource for communicating core concepts, right in the palm of your hand and right at point of care. Additional iPad version also available.

Blood Vessel Anatomy – £1.99 – Learn more about the highways of the human body with this blood vessel learning tool.

Gray's Anatomy 2011 – £1.99 – The original Gray's Anatomy reference with all 1,247 figures.

Human Body 3D Anatomy – £1.99 – This application includes all the major systems of the human body, showing them with complete information using 2D graphics, extensive information and 3D animations too.

iAnatomy – Free – Great for learning cross sectional anatomy as a student or for a quick refresher as a professional. Includes over 60 actual CT scans of the chest, abdomen, and pelvis. Separate tabs provide views of bone, muscle, organ, or blood vessel labels on each image.

Muscle Head and Neck System – Free – This application will help you memorize all the muscles in the head and neck—many of which are small but very important.

Anatomy (cont'd)

Netter's Anatomy Flash Cards, 3rd Edition – £27.99 – Use this tool to test yourself on your anatomy knowledge from anywhere. This is a new product. This is not an update for users of Netter's Anatomy, 2nd Edition

Speed Bones MD – £1.99 – Speed Bones MD is a fun and addictive game that tests your speed and challenges your memory.

Speed Muscles MD – £1.79 – Working just like the bones study tool, this tool will help you learn all the muscles of the body. Additional iPad version also available.

Calculators

ABG – Free – A multipurpose medical calculator with functionality to: analyze arterial blood gasses; output a recommended FIO<sub>2</sub>, given a determined pO<sub>2</sub>, FIO<sub>2</sub> and a desired pO<sub>2</sub>, and; perform hemodynamic calculations utilizing the Fick principle.

Adult Drug Calculations UK – Free – Learn the formulae to calculate and administer drugs for adults, practise your skills and see how well you're doing with this 40 minute app.

BioStats Calculator – £6.99 – This app allows anyone to quickly and accurately make statistics calculations to arrive at a decision.

Cardio Calc – Free – While probably more useful for cardiologists, this tool allows any medical professional figure out appropriate treatments and risk levels.

Clearance- GFR Calculator – Free – A simple and effective calculator to estimate the creatinine clearance, given the creatinine serum concentration and age.